Writer's Workshop

Half support group and half swift kick, this course is focused on the writer's process of getting from idea to draft. This class will allow the writer to delve deep into their practice and come away with twenty or so pages that have been composed and revised based on instructor and peer feedback. Among other craft topics, we will talk about plot, the distinction between story and plot; dialogue, pure fun with words by playing with diction and cliché; tension, identifying opportunities to amp up or reduce the tension of the story; and point of view, choosing the best vantage point for your story. This class will work with a new craft topic each session utilizing small group feedback and a gentle workshop process. All genres of creative writing and all levels of experience are welcome. Each student will receive close readings with personalized notes from the instructor. Bring the seeds of your story, and we'll watch them grow. There will be homework required between sessions, and the instructor will foster a supportive writing community. 10 sessions

Flagger Certification Training

Certified flaggers are responsible for worker and public safety during road construction, utility work and maintenance operations. Because of this, the flagger must, through visual movements and appearance, establish authority and confidence so traffic will respond in time and consistently with the need to stop, change lanes, proceed more slowly, or maneuver as necessary around the work site. This class prepares students to receive a Flagger Certification card, which is valid for 3 years in Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana. Students must be at least 18 years old and must bring a valid State I.D. Card or Drivers License to the class. There is an open book test at the end of class in which you must have a passing score of 80% in order to receive your certification.
